OUR SCHOOL EMPLOYEES

Mrs. Green

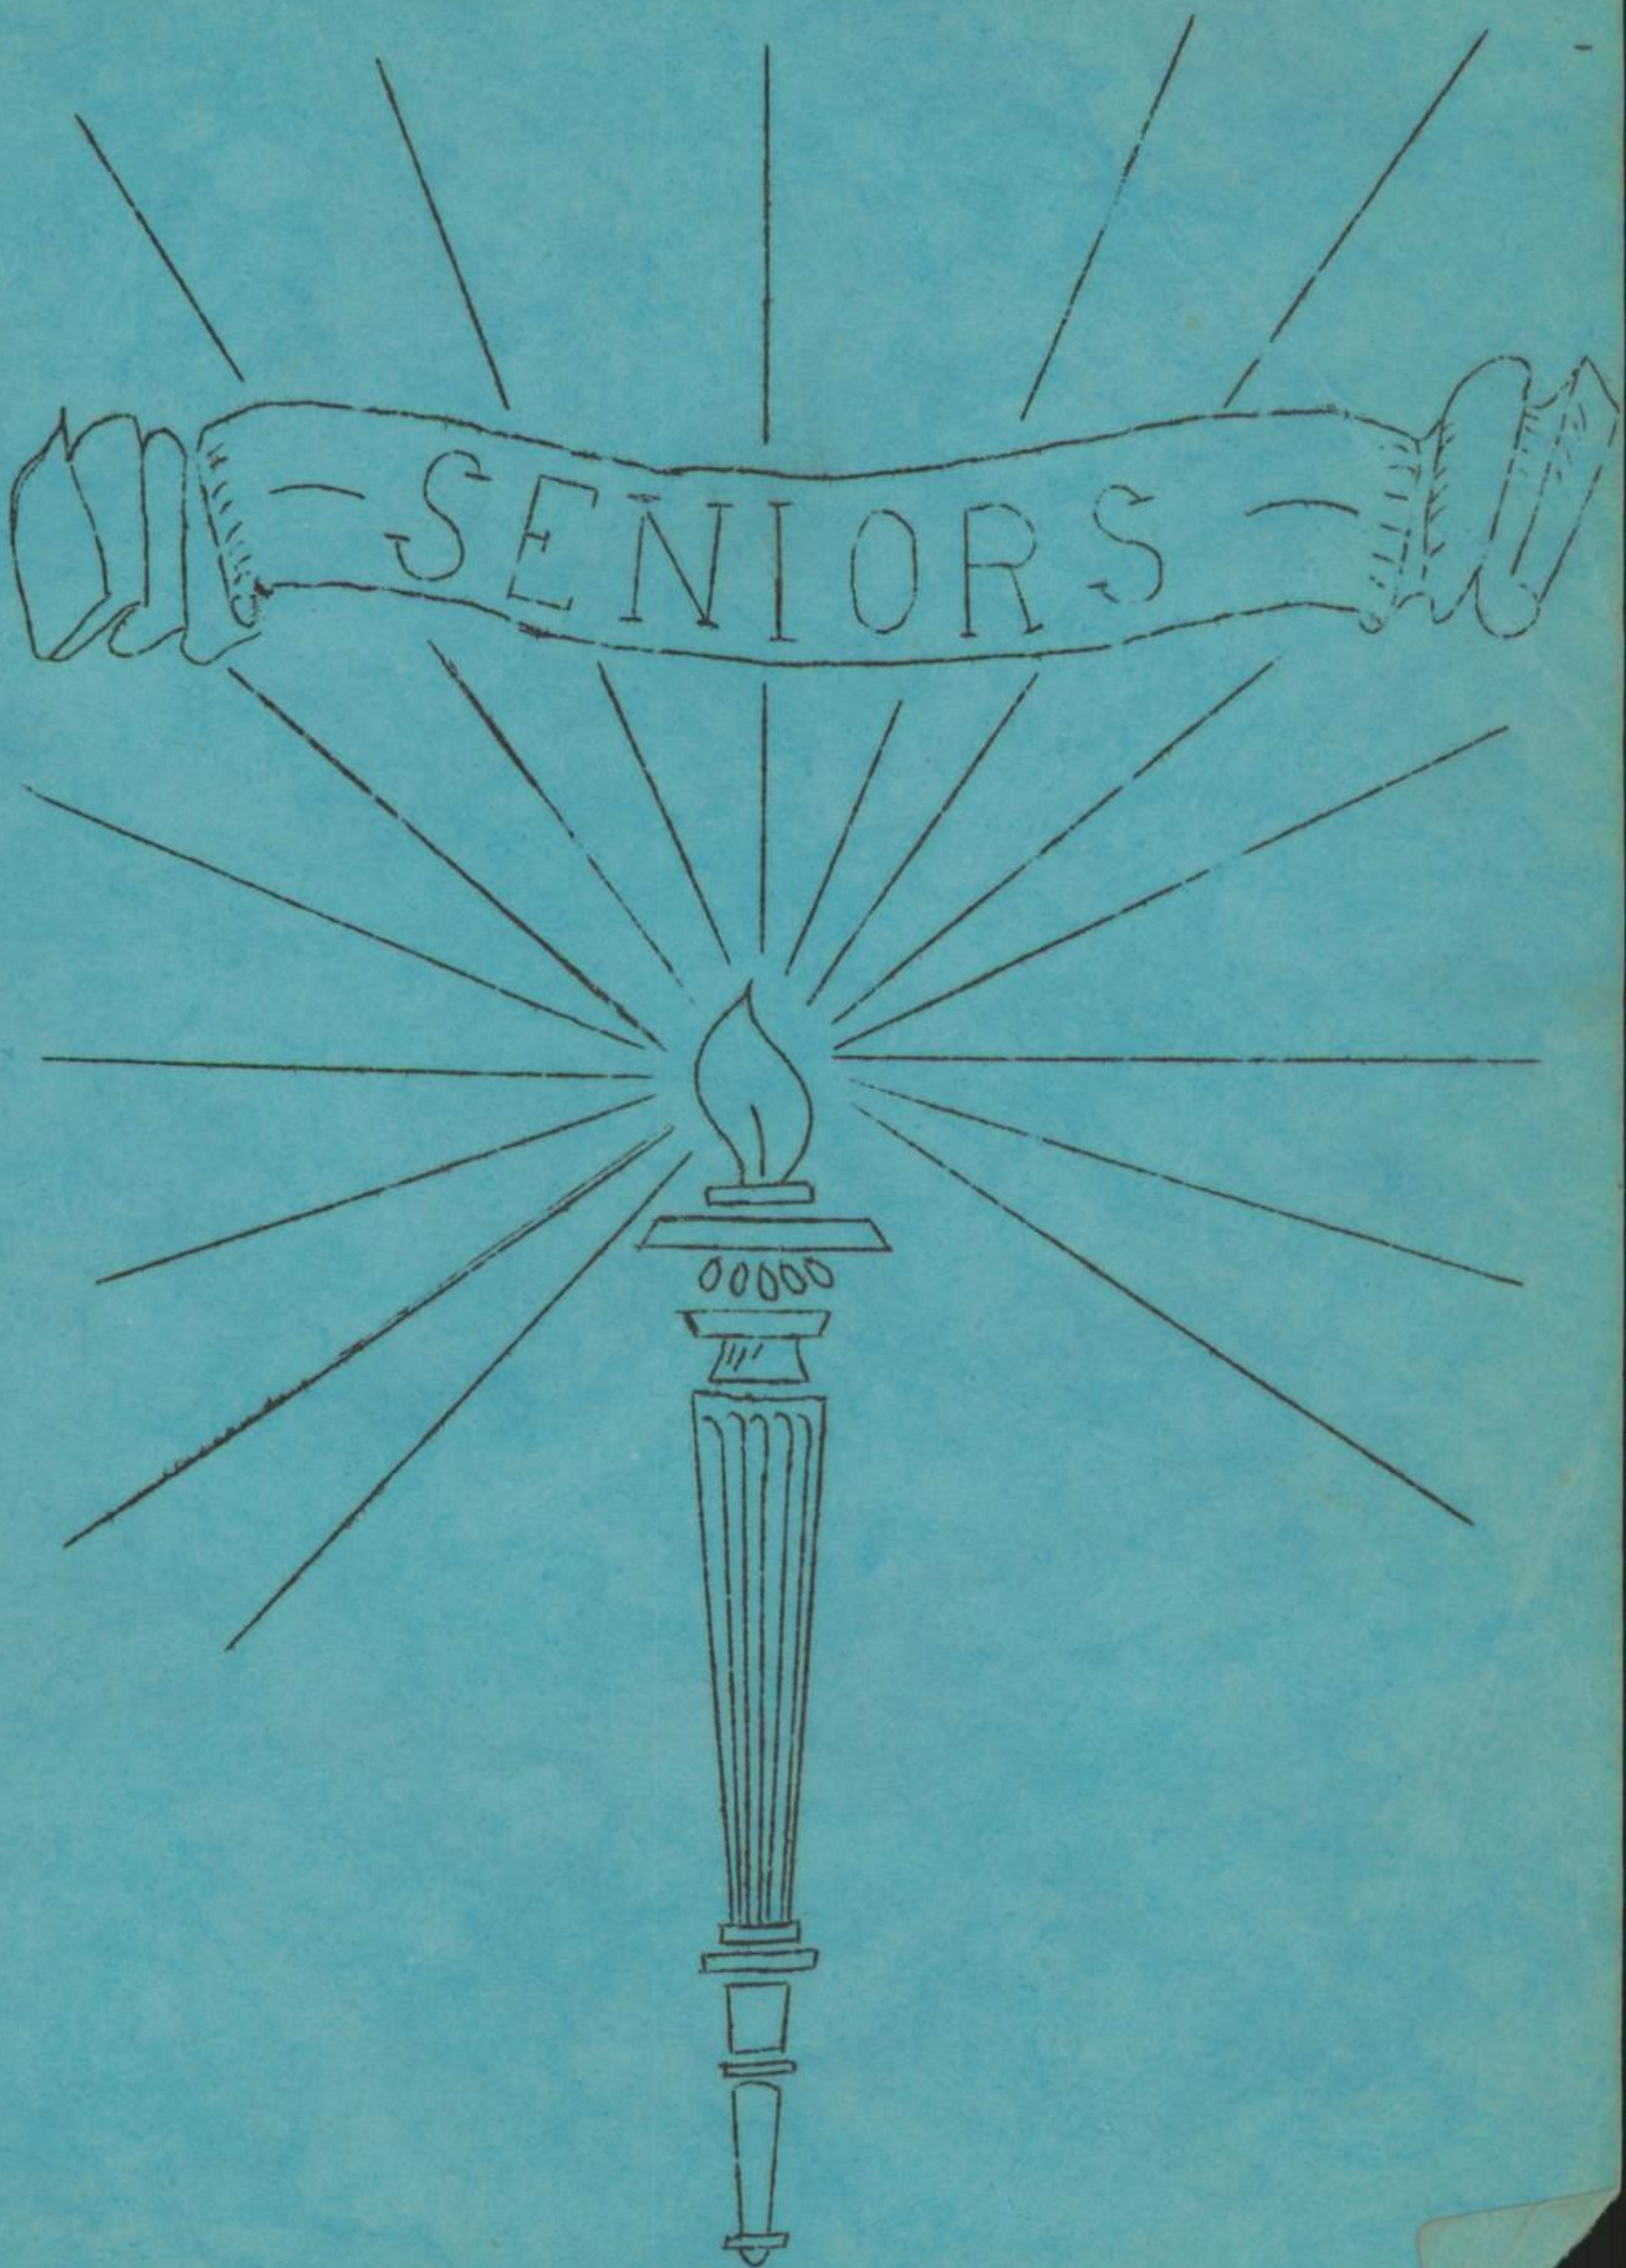

We wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Green for her fine work in cooking for the whole school. This is not only a help to the mothers who work but for all the mothers. It also assures them that their children will have a wholesome, warm meal at the noon hour. We are grateful to her for the fine work.

Mr. Lindamuth

At the end of each school term, when the annuals are published, the janitor realizes how much the students appreciate him. This year is no exception. We are all thankful for Mr. Lindamuth's endeavor and success in keeping the building warm, clean, and in order, also his helpful hand for the times we students need assistance.

Miss Place

Carol knows we all appreciate her help, as the secretary has much to do. This is Carol's first year with us and she plans to come back next fall. Every time we students want to know where something is, we ask Carol. She is always busy making out tests, typing letters, grading papers, or some duty. We all wish to express our gratitude.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of the year 1935, a group of wide-eyed youngsters, eager to learn to read and write, entered and began their school career.

After eight years of study, this group entered their first year of high school.

During these twelve long years, we have been instructed by those who were more capable of instructing us than we were to instruct ourselves, for those great problems in life.

Even though small in number, the class has tried to raise the standard set up by those who have gone ahead.

In the fall of '42, we entered a new role in our school life. We entered high school and received the title of Freshmen.

At the beginning of the year we numbered twenty-one and one more was added. The Seniors gave us a party at which time they initiated us and we were at last considered high school students. Under the leadership of Mr. Kinney we enjoyed several parties and other interesting activities during the year.

When we entered our Sophomore year the following fall we numbered eighteen but one withdrew in the early part of the year. This year we took part in more activities and enjoyed our second year in high school under our advisor, Mr. Fryer.

After the completion of two successful years in high school, we eagerly entered school again as Juniors in the fall of '44. This year was very exciting. Our class rings were received, which were ordered in our Sophomore year. Our class play, "Mr. Beane From Lima," was given and was very successful. Two films "In the Navy" and "Road to Zanzibar," were also featured this year. One of the most important events of our Junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom, May 4, in the school auditorium. Under the leadership of Mrs. Cook, we had a very successful one. Everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of a dance band.

At last we find ourselves on the last lap of our high school career with sixteen left.

This year the Juniors and Seniors went to Columbus to the football game when Ohio State played Wisconsin. We also went over the campus of the State University and went to the radio station to see and hear the rehearsal of an all men's chorus.

In the fall, we had one paper drive before the government stopped buying paper.

Our Senior play, "The Darling Brats," was presented April 12, which was very successful.

We plan on taking a trip to Niagara Falls, May 22.

We chose the following motto: "To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

The Class of 1946 is very grateful to Mr. Tennant for his leadership in our last year in high school.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Yesterday And Tomorrow - a sonnet .

You, seniors of today, will soon go out
Into the changing world to make your way,
But we, the underclassmen, have no doubt
That each of you will meet success, so may
We follow in your steps and do our work
As you have done, with cheerfulness and skill;
And if, when tasks grow hard, we want to shirk,
We have your guiding path to follow, 'till
At last we shall be Seniors of this school,
Doing the tasks which have been left undone
And working with an old, time-honored tool--
The mind. Yet as you leave our school, there's none
To whom we care to give more generous praise
Than you--good luck through all your coming days!

SCHOOL SONG

We're loyal to you, Buckland High
The red and the white is our cry,
We'll back you to stand
With the best in the land
For we know you are true
Buckland High. Rah! Rah!
Fight on is our cry to you, team.
Victory for us, it is nigh.
Our team is our fame protector
They'll bring us out a victor
We're for you Buckland High.
Fling out that dear old flag of Red and White
Bring out your sons and daughters
fighting for right
Like men of old on giants
Placing reliance, shouting defiance
Os--key--wow--wow,
Amid the broad green plains that
nourish our land.
For honest labor and for wisdom we stand
And unto thee we pledge our heart
and hand,
We're loyal to you, Buckland High.

1945-46 Basketball Season

In 1945 Basket Ball season started with a win over York. The score was 50 to 29. The following game Buckland was defeated by Ridge 34 to 27.

The Bucks then played Botkins on our own floor, winning with a score of 42 to 14. Then they felt they were ready for New Knoxville but were defeated by a score of 34 to 27. After being edged out by New Knoxville the boys were determined to win over Criderville, and defeated by the Alumni, 49 to 26.

The boys met hard luck in the next three games and were defeated by New Bremen, Minster, and New Knoxville. Then in the next three games the Bucks were victorious over Neptune, Criderville, and St. Joe.

New Bremen beat the Bucks in the second game, 32-19.

Then the Bucks regained their fighting spirit and won three straight games, once from Minster and twice from Waynesfield. Then they lost to Spencerville, and won over Mendon 44-35.

In the Auglaize County Tournament, the Bucks entered playing Cridersville, coming through with a winning score of 41-36. In the following game they played Waynesfield and were defeated by a score of 30-23, which put them in the loser's bracket. The same night New Knoxville beat New Bremen, putting them down in the loser's bracket and making our next opponent. We played New Bremen on the third night, defeating them by a slim margin of 37-36. In the next game, the Bucks played Minster, the winner of the losers of games 3 and 4. They beat Minster in an overtime game, 42-41. From there they entered the semi-finals, playing Waynesfield and defeating them by another slim score of 31-29. This win enabled them to play in the finals against New Knoxville. In this game the Bucks put up a good fight and at the half were trailing by only two points. However, in the second half, New Knoxville proved too much for the Bucks and slowly widened the gap, winning by a score of 37-25, thus making the Bucks runners-up.

At the beginning of the tournament the Bucks were classed as the under-dogs, but due to their fighting spirit throughout the season and in the tournament, they well deserved the title of runners-up.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

As the jeep I had hired to take me to "The Paradise Airfield" a couple miles west of Buckland, roared down the highway, I just merely managed a look at the driver. To my surprise I found it to be Jim Wagner. I was determined to talk to him if I managed to stay in the contraption until I arrived at my destination. When we finally did arrive, although I looked like I'd been through the war I did manage a chat with Jim. He said about six years after we had graduated from BHS, the city had prospered and was now sporting an airport, as airplanes are now the fashion. He was a mechanic, commonly called "grease monkey" and also the jeep driver, in his spare time.

I then strolled over to the ticket stand to buy my ticket. An old familiar voice greeted me, and there sat one of my life-long friends, Donna Barrett. Donna was part time secretary at the airport, as she devoted the majority of her time to keeping her husband and two daughters. I might mention that Donna had grown a little in height and width, too. We talked until time for the next plane.

Finally, a big silver plane soared above the field and made a perfect landing. The door opened and out stepped the stewardess. She looked so very pert and prim in her uniform that, quite naturally, I took a second look. I thought she reminded me of one of my old schoolmates, the way she was hurrying around and when she called "All Aboard", I knew for sure that it was Alice Bowsher.

I walked up the steps and boarded the plane. After Alice saw that everyone was comfortably seated, she sat down beside me and I asked her a few questions about some of our old school pals.

The first thing that she told me was that Junior Brorain was owner and pilot of the plane that we were flying in. Junior was by now the picture of the perfect pilot, tall and thin--he made a dashing figure in his trim air togs.

Jennelle Davidson was now married and lived on a farm near Wabash, Indiana. She had four little boys. They were all taking music lessons, one to play the bass drum, one the saxophone, one the trombone, and the last the trumpet----almost a miniature band. Nice going, Jennelle!

Guess who was secretary in one of Henry Ford's big airplane plants, since he had converted to airplanes? It was none other than Claralee Sunderland, and she was certainly making use of that "awful stuff" as we used to refer to our shorthand. Of course she was married but her husband was at present on a mission for Ford in Africa, looking for suitable places for airfields there.

Evelyn Place was singing on radio station WLW and now had acquired the nick-name, "The Song Bird of Ohio." Evelyn too was married. It seems all my old school pals are married but me. Woe is me!!!

Imogene Brorein was a schoolteacher in Dayton, Ohio. She was teaching the fifth and sixth grades. And she was really giving them the tests. I thought she would know better than that.

Well, as I previously forgot to mention my destination, it was the "Land of Sunshine," California. I might add here that it isn't so sunny there. I had heard that Nora Belle Fogt was an actress in Hollywood so I decided to see her. She was making a new picture called "The Life of My Ambitious Father."

As the afternoon rolled on and I didn't have anything in particular to do, I hired a horse and went horseback riding. Going out from Hollywood about six miles, a rabbit suddenly sprang out from behind a sagebrush along the trail and the horse just as suddenly bolted. I never did find out where I landed but I awoke in a soft bed and soon a woman came into the room. It was Miriam Wilgus, of course. She and Ivan were married and living at ease in California.

I hopped the next train East and as we went through Michigan, I decided to stop off and see Detroit. I bought a newspaper and saw Geneo Hall in the headlines. He was football coach at the University there and his team had just won another victory.

We came back through Columbus and for old times sake I decided to stop. The first person I met as I strolled over the campus of Ohio State was Jo Ann Tennant. She was about ready to graduate as a dress designer and had a job waiting for her.

I took my leave and went to uptown Columbus. Who, of all people did I meet but that small-town couple, the former Louise Redick and Harry Boltz. Naturally they were married but unnaturally had four boys, and for some odd and unnatural reason, three out of the four of them were strawberry blondes, and the other was halfway between white and yellow. Harry and Louise lived on a farm about six miles out of Columbus. They went in for chickens--in a big way.

Coming on home from Columbus to the farm where my mother and father live, I decided to go to church and hear The Rev. Ned Elsass's sermon. Ned was preaching at Trinity Lutheran at Moulton. He had a very interesting sermon, much to my surprise. He had two children, a girl and a boy and could now understand all about "preacher's kids."

I spent a week at home but that old desire to wonder seized me again, and off I went. This time I thought I'd like to cross the Atlantic by ship. I walked up the gangplank and there came a sailor and shook my hand. You guessed it, it was Carl Lawrence. Carl had joined the Navy and like it so well that he decided to make it his life--long job.

Jennie: "What makes George such a pessimist?"

Jack: "Well, he's been married three times--once for love, once for money, and the last time for a home."

Richman: "Would you love my daughter just as much if she had no money?"

Suitor: "Why, certainly!"

Richman: "That's sufficient. I don't want any idiots in this family."

"Our history teacher talks to himself. Does yours?"

"Yes, but he doesn't realize it--he thinks we are listening."

Miss Jones: "I've just heard of a case where a man married a girl on his deathbed so she could have his millions when he was gone. Could you love a girl like that?"

Geneo: "That's just the kind of a girl I could love." What's her address?"

The passer by: "You took a great risk in rescuing that boy; you deserve a Carnegie medal. What prompted you to do it?"

"THE UNITED STATES

GREENVILLE,

A Washington car conductor, born in London and still a cockney, has succeeded in extracting thrills from the alphabet--imparting excitement to the names of the national capital streets. On a recent Sunday morning he was calling the streets thus:

"Haitch!"

"High!"

"Jay!"

"Hell!"

At this moment three prim ladies picked up their prayer-books and left the car.
